MATCHUP WITH MONTREAL

The Hurricanes and Canadiens met for the 222nd time in their regular-season histories. Carolina holds an all-time record of 86-108-20-8 against Montreal, including a 51-46-13-3 mark at home and a 50-35-5-8 record since relocating. Sebastian Aho leads all Hurricanes skaters with 33 points (14g, 19a) in 26 career regular-season games against the Canadiens. Andrei Svechnikov entered the matchup with an active four-game point streak against Montreal, totaling six points (3g, 3a), while Seth Jarvis recorded at least one assist in each of his last three games against the Canadiens (4a).

JANK THE TANK

Mark Jankowski skated in his 500th career NHL game. He entered the milestone recording the best start of his career through 17 games, including a two-goal performance against Seattle on Nov. 14 that brought his season total to 10 goals. With his two goals in Saturday's game in Finland, Jankowski also became the fourth Hurricanes skater to reach double-digit goals this season, joining Sebastian Aho (12), Jackson Blake (11) and Logan Stankoven (11). Carolina's four players with at least 10 goals are tied with Edmonton for the most in the NHL. Additionally, the Hurricanes are 9-0-0 this season when Jankowski records a point, the best record among players on the roster.

FLY GUY

Nikolaj Ehlers opened the scoring with his sixth goal of the season, while Logan Stankoven recorded his 10th assist of the year on the play. Stankoven became the seventh Hurricanes player to reach double-digit assists this season, giving Carolina the most players with 10 or more assists in the NHL.

CANIAC CROWD

With tonight’s game, the Carolina Hurricanes extended their streak to 177 consecutive regular-season and playoff sellouts at Lenovo Center, dating back to Feb. 24, 2023. Carolina’s standing-room only crowd of 19,250 on opening night represented the largest attendance for a regular-season home game at Lenovo Center. Only two regular-season home games in franchise history have drawn more fans: the team’s Stadium Series outdoor game against the Washington Capitals at Carter-Finley Stadium on Feb. 18, 2023 (56,961) and a game at the Greensboro Coliseum against the New York Rangers on Nov. 21, 1997 (19,358). The team sold out all 41 home games during the 2025-26 season. The Hurricanes first sold out every home game in franchise history during the 2023-24 season, averaging 18,819 fans per game, including standing-room attendance. Following renovations to Lenovo Center during the summer of 2026, the arena’s seated capacity will be 18,800 for the 2026-27 hockey season.
